Author: CCMG Policy and Bylaws Committee

Approved by the CCMG Board of Directors: December 7, 2018

Purpose: The purpose of this document is to provide the process for endorsement of documents produced by other organizations by the Canadian College of Medical Geneticists (CCMG) to ensure a consistent, responsive and efficient approach.

<td>1.</td>
<td>CCMG office receives a request to endorse a statement/guideline, and forwards to CCMG President.</td>

<td>2.</td>
<td>Within 5 working days, President considers length and scope of document and decides on maximum TAT for response – not to exceed 2 months. President directs Manager to acknowledge request (template letter A): &lt;br&gt; a) Thank requestor for seeking CCMG endorsement &lt;br&gt; b) Inform requestor that the CCMG has a formal process for endorsement that is designed to occur as efficiently as possible, but could take up to DATE decided by President, depending on the length of time needed to review the document, availability of committee members and review and approval by the Board of Directors.</td>

<td>3.</td>
<td>CCMG Manager informs CCMG Board members for need to review document for which endorsement was requested, and sends/posts document for review.</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.</td>
<td>Within 2 weeks of the request, statement/guideline will be reviewed by a majority of Directors with the sole purpose of reaching a decision if the document is suitable for CCMG review for endorsement, as based on: &lt;br&gt; a) Content falls within purview of the CCMG &lt;br&gt; b) Content is appropriate for consideration &lt;br&gt; This should not require a detailed read, but instead a cursory review.</td>

Committee review: The review process should include review of each recommendation of the document, to determine whether each recommendation can be endorsed, endorsed with changes, or rejected. This determination will be based on the agreement of the committee members with the available evidence in the guideline and other sources, and if applicable, acceptable and feasible for implementation in the Canadian context and as relevant to the CCMG existing documents. A table with recommendations requiring caveats or clarifications should be produced – see Table 1.</td>

11. The template letters C and D to the requesting organization will also include preferred wording for a comment to be added to the manuscript regarding CCMG endorsement, as outlined in the current CCMG Document Style guidelines.

12. The final decision of the Board and the outcome (as per step 11) will be transmitted back to the committee Chairs by the BoD representative and/or President.

13. The Board may choose to reject the committee recommendation. This is only likely to occur under compelling circumstances. If it occurs, the Board should communicate with the committee Chair to thank the committee for their recommendation and briefly explain the rationale for the Board’s decision. This should be done as a fait accompli – rather than encouraging further deliberation between Board and the committee, which prolongs the process and does not necessarily result in consensus. The Board has the final word and needs to “own” the right to override the recommendation.

14. In some cases, endorsement of a document may be initiated internally, rather than at request of an external organization (for example, CCMG committee wishing to endorse a new ACMG document). In this scenario, a request for endorsement may be brought to the BoD by CCMG committee BoD representatives, Chairs, or CCMG members directly. For review of such requests, steps 4 to 10 will be followed, with next steps decided by the Board depending on the specific document (for example, the endorsed document may be posted on the CCMG website along with comments from review captured in Table 1).

<td>Example: For some disorders with founder populations in Canada, very high variant frequencies may exist. A statement to this effect should be added.</td>

Thank you for requesting CCMG endorsement of ______.

While we appreciate being contacted in this regard, it is the consensus of our Board of Directors that the subject matter lies outside the purview of the CCMG or is inconsistent with CCMG policies or principles; therefore endorsement by our organization would not be appropriate.

We nonetheless appreciate your interest in our organization and we remain available to consider future endorsement requests.

Yours sincerely,
